Kaesler

The Plus in Nutrition

Welcome to Kaesler Nutrition.

We develop and distribute feed additives of the highest quality that set standards with their efficacy and safety. To us, being The Plus in Nutrition means: we do our best, think more deeply about animal nutrition and make a decisive contribution to a societally accepted husbandry of livestock and to responsible nutrition. For our customers, for consumers, for a future worth living.

We represent the highest quality. And everyone of us is committed to it.

Our diet has a significant impact on our well-being and on our health. What is being put on the plate is important. We develop, produce and distribute effective feed additives and premixes of the highest quality, supporting holistic nutrition.

The roots of our owner-operated company are in Cuxhaven in northern Germany. Experienced employees from approx. 20 nations are currently working at our headquarters and at the international representations. Our culture is built on diversity, understanding, and respect.

Our success is the result of a strong team. We place great value on good working conditions and collegial interaction. Of equal importance to us are willingness to perform and commitment. As an up-and-coming company, we offer great perspectives to school leavers, students and experienced professionals. Those who fit in with us and show commitment can move a lot at team Kaesler.
